Dear Executive Constantine and K4C Member Cities,

The City of Bellevue has been a member of the King County Cities Climate Collaboration (K4C) since 2014, and is pleased to sign-on to the updated K4C Joint County-City Climate Commitments. The City has valued the partnership with the seventeen K4C partners and looks forward to continuing this collaboration.

By signing on to the updated K4C Joint Commitments, the City of Bellevue wishes to reaffirm its commitment and support for the shared vision of the K4C. The City appreciates the thoughtful updates to the Joint Commitments, and values Guiding Principle #4, which allows each partner to pursue strategies and policies which are most relevant to the individual partner.

As a member of the K4C, the City of Bellevue appreciates the opportunity to work together to address climate change and a sustainable future. Bellevue is taking an active role in promoting the types of solutions needed to achieve the shared goals of the K4C, including transit-oriented development, clean energy, waste reduction, and preserving urban ecosystems.

We look forward to engaging further with elected officials, staff, and the community on these issues and commitments.

Sincerely,

Mayor Lynne Robinson
