

Introduction and Vision

Bellevue's Comprehensive Plan is the city's foundational policy document that guides growth and development for the twenty-year period after adoption. Bellevue is known as a community with beautiful natural areas, vibrant commercial areas, a strong economy, some of the nation's best schools, and healthy neighborhoods. Bellevue's success today stems from decades of community work, foresight, and planning. This plan continues to enhance those qualities that make Bellevue a city in a park. Bellevue welcomes the world and residents and visitors recognize it is a special place.

Bellevue is a growing, dynamic city; the fourth largest in Washington. It lies at the crossroads of major highways and is served by high-capacity transit service. It is idyllically bounded by lakes, mountains, and forests. Each neighborhood has a unique mix of people, businesses and institutions that contribute to the diversity that makes Bellevue a great place to live. Bellevue is a thriving and dynamic business center, anchored by Downtown, BelRed and the Wilburton Transit-

Oriented Development Area with additional centers in Factoria, Eastgate and Crossroads. Bellevue is home to international businesses and renowned institutions. The leafy, wooded character found throughout Bellevue is cherished by residents, businesses and visitors alike. The Bellevue community holds its history close and embraces the future.

The Vision of the Comprehensive Plan describes a future state, the community's desire for how the city should develop to continue to be a place people want to be in 2044. The Vision is ambitious, yet achievable. It creates a dynamic tension that will challenge the community to continue to work to improve the qualities of the city.

The Vision ties directly to the plan's "elements" or chapters that provide the city's long-range policy direction. These policies serve as the basis for city regulations, capital investments, programs, and other actions. Together, the Vision and the policies help ensure that the work of the city is coordinated and helping the community achieve its potential.

Local-serving shopping centers are found throughout the city allowing people to easily meet daily needs close to home. Through the city’s growth, residents are connected to one another. All neighborhoods have diverse housing choices, gathering spaces, and local and regional commercial services. Bellevue’s people – its ultimate strength - define both the city and their neighborhoods.

This Comprehensive Plan Vision will be realized by the entire city organization, in concert with the Bellevue community and regional partners. The Comprehensive Plan provides city policy direction on a range of issues, from the city’s growth strategy to environmental protection, to provision of utilities, parks, and other services. Further detail is found in the Vision statement for each element of the plan. These occur at the beginning of each element.

PLANNING FRAMEWORK

A city's comprehensive plan is vital in preparing for future growth and emerging challenges such as traffic congestion, housing needs, and environmental stewardship. People need a safe and secure place to live, an economy that provides jobs, ways to get around, schools and colleges, and recreational opportunities. It is the city government's responsibility to provide public services and facilities, develop policies, and adopt regulations to guide the growth of a city that meets the needs of its people. The Bellevue Comprehensive Plan captures community goals and establishes specific policies that directly influence how our city will grow and change over time.

The Comprehensive Plan is the city's foundational policy document. It is the one place that various city plans and programs come together to work towards a single community vision for the future. As an "umbrella" document, the plan's policies guide other city plans, neighborhood area plans, spending on capital projects, development of regulations, and other programs and services, all of which affect the community in large or small ways.

Bellevue Snapshot

Using data from the U.S. Census Bureau, Washington State Office of Financial Management, Puget Sound Regional Council, and other sources, the Planning & Community Development Department forms a snapshot of the Bellevue's population:

- Population of 154,600 in 2023 and an estimated employment of around 154,400 in 2022.¹
- Bellevue is an increasingly diverse city, with more than 40 percent of its population identifying as nonwhite in 2021.²
- As of 2021, Bellevue had estimated 61,440 households with an average of 2.41 persons per household. The most common household types at that time were married couples without children – about 30% – and single-person households – about 28%.³
- The under-18 population comprised just over one fifth of Bellevue's population in 2021.⁴
- An increasing proportion of Bellevue residents commute to work by means other than driving alone – 62% in 2021, up from 26% in 2000.⁵
- About 7.5% of Bellevue's residents are in households whose incomes fall below the Federal Poverty Line in 2021.⁶
- Just over 70% of Bellevue's population aged 25 or older had a bachelor's degree or higher in 2021.⁷
- About 70% of Bellevue's employed residents worked in management, professional, or related occupations in 2021.⁸

WHAT IS A COMPREHENSIVE PLAN?

A comprehensive plan is a broad statement of community goals and policies that direct the orderly and coordinated physical development of a city into the future. A comprehensive plan anticipates change and provides specific guidance for future legislative and administrative actions. It reflects the results of citizen involvement, technical analysis, and the judgment of decision makers. The maps, goals, and policies of the plan provide the basis for the adoption of regulations, programs, and services which implement the plan. The plan serves as a guide for zoning, infrastructure development, and developing community services. Because Bellevue has been remarkably successful in achieving consistency between the Comprehensive Plan, regulations, and actual development, the present physical design and function of the city has evolved in an orderly fashion that is aligned with community expectations.

What's in this plan?

The Comprehensive Plan is designed to guide Bellevue's future development and fulfill the city's regional responsibilities in growth management. This plan is organized into two volumes.

- Volume 1 contains the city's vision in the introduction, followed by the General Element chapters that contain goals and policies for each subject.
- Volume 2 contains goals and policies of the neighborhood area (formerly known as subarea) plans.

In Volume 1, each of the elements is organized into three basic components: (1) an individual vision statement; (2) a narrative that describes the background and context for the element; and (3) a list of goals and policies that, when implemented, will achieve the city's vision. Volume 1 also contains a Glossary of key terms.

How is the plan implemented?

Adopting a plan is the first step toward shaping the city's future. Bellevue's implementation of the Comprehensive Plan comprises a combination of short-term and long-term actions. Some of the actions will be guided by functional plans. Other actions will be taken by the city when required or as resources become available.

Functional Plans

Bellevue has several plans that provide details and implementation specifics for policy areas in the Comprehensive Plan. These functional plans are updated more frequently than the Comprehensive Plan. The plans listed below are plans that the City maintains. There are other plans that impact the implementation of the Comprehensive Plan maintained by other agencies such as King County and the Bellevue School District.
