DEFENDANTS WHO ARE RESIDENTS OF ANOTHER STATE AT THE TIME OF SENTENCING OR ENTRY OF A DEFERRED PROSECUTION ORDER

DEFENDANTS WHO ARE RESIDENTS OF WASHINGTON AND DESIRE TO MOVE OUT OF STATE

1. If your case is a *qualifying offense under the Interstate Commission for Adult Offender Supervision (ICAOS), you cannot leave the state of Washington upon the Court's entry of your sentence or deferred prosecution order until you follow these procedures and receive Reporting Instructions from the Receiving State. Timing is critical for this process.
2. To allow you to return to your home state promptly after the Court's entry of your sentence or deferred prosecution, you must first apply and receive expedited Reporting Instructions from the ICAOS Receiving State. You must remain and be physically present in Washington at the time you submit your completed ICAOS application. To receive expedited processing, you must immediately submit your ICAOS application so it can be processed by the Receiving State within 7 days of the entry of your sentence or deferred prosecution order. If you do not promptly submit your ICAOS application as described below, the Receiving State then has up to 45 days to complete its investigation and approval/disapproval of your ICAOS application. You cannot leave Washington until your ICAOS application has been approved by the Receiving State.
 - a. If you receive an immediate jail commitment at the time of sentencing, you must submit your completed ICAOS application immediately upon release from custody so it can be submitted within a 7-day expedited processing period.
 - b. If you do not receive expedited Reporting Instructions from the Receiving State ICAOS Coordinator, you cannot return to your state of residence until the Receiving State investigates and approves your ICAOS application. Under these circumstances, the Receiving State has up to 45 days to process your application.
3. How to apply.
 - a. Inform the judge of your residence status at the earliest date possible. If the judge determines your case may be a qualifying offense, and the judge will permit you to return to your home state, you MUST then apply for ICAOS eligibility screening through the King County District Court ICAOS Coordinator at 206-477-0396, or if applicable, the Bellevue Probation Department ICAOS Coordinator at 425-452-6956. Call the local ICAOS Coordinator immediately.

- b. The judge must provide written approval of your request to relocate to the local ICAOS Coordinator. ICAOS Information Page 2 of 2 KCDC October 2018
 - c. To qualify for expedited processing of your ICAOS application, the completed application must be received and submitted to the Receiving State within the 7-day expedited application period. Therefore, it is very important that you contact the local ICAOS Coordinator (identified above) within 24 hours of the Court's entry of your sentence or deferred prosecution order (or release from jail if you are booked) to initiate any expedited processing request. You must remain in Washington until you receive Reporting Instructions from the Receiving State ICAOS Coordinator.
 - d. If the local ICAOS Coordinator determines you are eligible for ICAOS processing, an ICAOS application appointment will be scheduled immediately and you will be instructed to provide the following items at your appointment:
 - 1. Verification of your address in the Receiving State (e.g., driver's license, lease agreement or other documentation showing your residence in the Receiving State).
 - 2. Information on the individuals who reside with you – if applicable, and letters of support from these individuals that include information specified by the ICAOS Coordinator. Be aware, the Receiving State will be following up with all individuals with whom you reside.
 - 3. Photo identification (e.g., passport, ID, driver's license).
 - 4. Employment information (paystubs, offer letter, supervisor contact information), or letter of enrollment from college/university and current class schedule – if applicable. Be aware, the Receiving State may follow up with your employer/education program to confirm employment or enrollment.
 - e. If your application is complete and you are determined eligible to proceed, the local ICAOS Coordinator will submit your application before expiration of the 7-day expedited processing deadline. The Receiving State ICAOS Coordination must respond within this same 7-day period. If the Receiving State approves your expedited application, you will receive Reporting Instructions from the Receiving State ICAOS Coordinator and will be advised how to proceed.
- 4. If your request for expedited processing is rejected by the Receiving State, the Receiving State then has 45 days to complete the processing of your ICAOS application.
 - 5. If your ICAOS application is ultimately rejected by the Receiving State you will be required to return to Washington, or be required to remain in Washington.

QUALIFYING OFFENSES

- 1. Any assault or offense involving threat of physical and/or psychological harm, any offense designated as Domestic Violence, any child abuse situation, any sexual offense that requires registration, and any protection-type order violation.
