

Welcome to the demographic survey of artists in the City of Bellevue's Public Art Collection. The City of Bellevue has a robust and diverse public art collection that enriches the community's cultural landscape. This survey aims to gather information about the demographics of the artists who have contributed to this collection.

By collecting this information, we hope to understand better the artists shaping our public spaces and ensure that the City of Bellevue's Public Art Collection reflects the diversity of our community. This data will also help us identify any disparities in representation and develop strategies to address them.

Participation in this survey is voluntary, and all responses will be confidential. We appreciate your time and contribution to this important effort.

If you worked together on an artist team, we are collecting surveys from all artists involved, so please answer for yourself only.
